Our solution matches candidates to open reqs more efficiently than any other tool on the market, and it also:

Matches in All Directions

Other talent matching engines just show the best candidates for each job. MojoRank's proprietary matching engine matches jobs to candidates, candidates to jobs and candidates to candidates (via the "find similar candidates" feature).

Automates Candidate Rediscovery

You are sitting on a gold mine of talent. Rediscover and re-engage applicants hidden in your own recruiting systems.

Supports Internal Mobility

MojoRank makes it easy to identify ideal internal candidates and recommends the best back-fill candidates.

Supports Diversity Goals

MojoRank's anonymization capability focuses recruiters' and hiring managers' attention on the objective facts around candidates' qualifications to minimize unconscious bias.

Matches for any Position

Contingent or permanent, project-based or ongoing - MojoRank intelligently reads and understands job descriptions and instantly surfaces and ranks the best candidates with aligned goals.

Matches for any Location

Our proprietary algorithms identify the best-fit talent no matter where they live, regardless of whether the position is remote, onsite or hybrid.

Welcome to the Future of Recruiting

Companies that receive thousands of applications can easily get bogged down in the hiring process. MojoRank eliminates inefficiency and protects investments in human capital by aligning the right talent with the right job, every time. Training our algorithms on millions of candidates and job descriptions then having each validated by HR experts has created an unprecedented matching ability.

New applicants are carefully evaluated and compared against all other candidates in your ATS, then ranked for not just one specific job, but for every open job. This amplifies efficiency and enables recruiters to instantly initiate contact with the best matches, without having to sift through lesser-qualified candidates.

Deployment is fast and easy, since the solution integrates with any existing HR system and technology stack, so companies can enjoy its benefits right away without modifying or replacing any existing platforms. It can benefit any mid-sized to enterprise business with a heavy applicant flow, regardless of the industry.

"With MojoRank, searching for candidates has been eliminated. Instead we start reviewing qualified candidates. IMMEDIATELY."
